

To whom it may concern,

To think that anyone wants to raise taxes again is criminal. My family pays nearly $16,000 a year in property taxes for our house. that number is ridiculous. That does not include. excise tax, sales tax, personal income tax, fees for anything one wants to do in this state or town, college fees and tuition continually being raised and so on. Taxes are so high in CT that we look forward to when we retire so we can get the heck out of this state and not look back.

When will one law maker do one thing to cut taxes, say no to an increase. CT has a spending problem period. We work with addicts and people with addictions coming back into society and they do a better job saying no to drugs then any law maker in CT does saying no to tax increases. CT law makers increasing taxes is like a drug addict on crack, you just cannot say no. Quit the un ending spending and say no. You all have loaded way to much on the backs of the working citizens of CT and people are starting to move out. All that will be left here in CT will be State workers, Town Workers and Legislative people. Enough already.

thank you
